GREEN LEAVES '73

My life has been a tapestry of rich and royal hue / An everlasting vision of the everchanging view / A wondrous woven magic in bits of blue and gold / A tapestry to feel and see, impossible to hold. Once amid the soft silver sadness in the sky / There came a man of fortune, a drifter passing by / He wore a torn and tattered cloth around his leathered hide / And a coat of many colors, yellow-green on either side. He moved with some uncertainty, as if he didn't know / Just what he was there for, or where he ought to go / Once he reached for something golden hanging from a tree / And his hand came down empty. Soon within my tapestry along the rutted road / He sat down on a river rock and turned into a toad / It seemed that he had fallen into someone's wicked spell / And I wept to see him suffer, though I didn't know him well. As I watched in sorrow, there suddenly appeared / A figure gray and ghostly beneath a flowing beard / In times of deepest darkness, I've seen him dressed in black / Now my tapestry's unravelling; he's come to take me back / He's come to take me back.

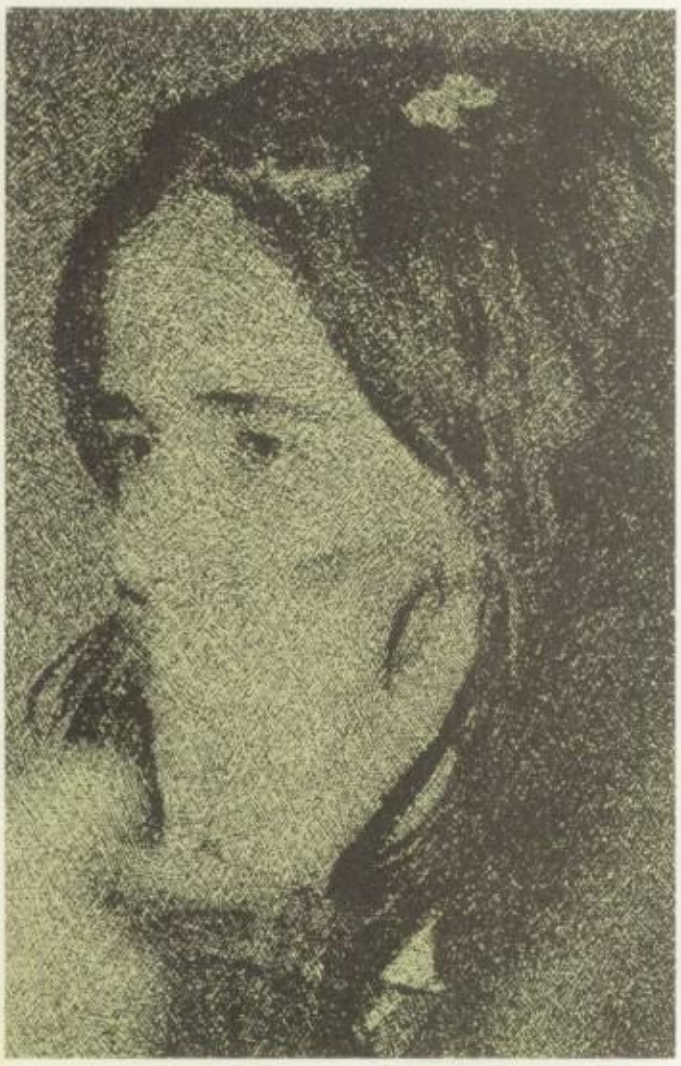
presents: Tapestry



As the thread looks thru the eye of life it weaves a pattern for itself with every twist and turn. One color blends next t another, forming a part that binds a story.

Very close, all the threads follow their own paths. Being careful not to run together still somehow, one effects the others. A shape

"takes form and is found as the " threads weaved together. As seasons change the threads of feeling become deeper and fuller are just instruments for the eye, as it learns

Books and pens, like the weaver's needle and cloth beyond what it can see. Threads of joy, good time excitement, fly with ease in and out; some snag, all are a part of the tapestry of time. Then time becomes only a background for the story that unfolds.

Office Workers

Keeping the books, typing the letters, billing the students, dispensing band-aids, cashing checks, settling accounts, lending masking tape . . . myriad are the duties and talents of the John Carroll Office Workers. These dedicated Administrative personnel devote long hours of service to the school, and constantly display the necessary qualities of accuracy and efficiency. It is largely because of their virtually flawless performances by these workers that the John Carroll school year runs so smoothly.

Mrs. Cissell — School Secretary.

Mrs. Skelton — School Bookkeeper.

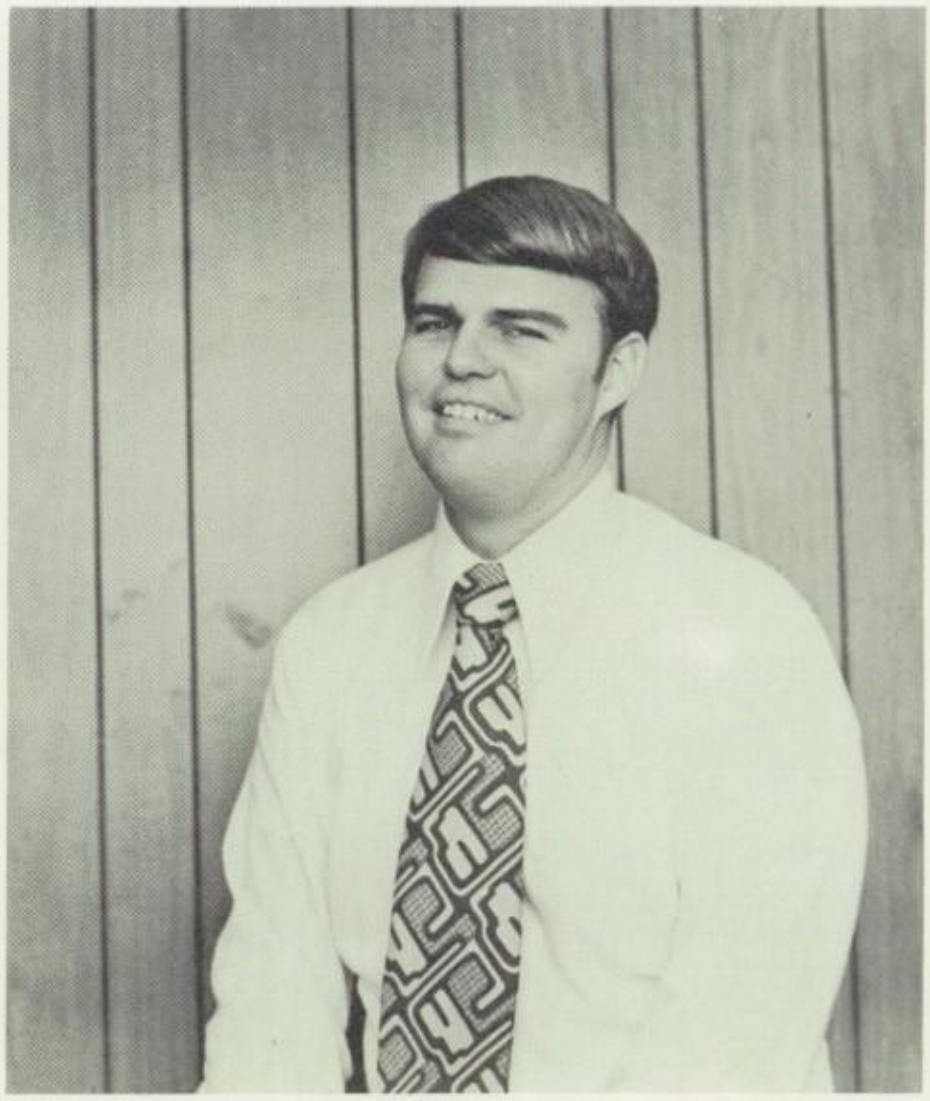
Mrs. Mackin — Business Office Manager.

Guidance Office

lways cheerful and smiling, Miss Rebecca Braxton is constantly ready to lend advice to udents in need.

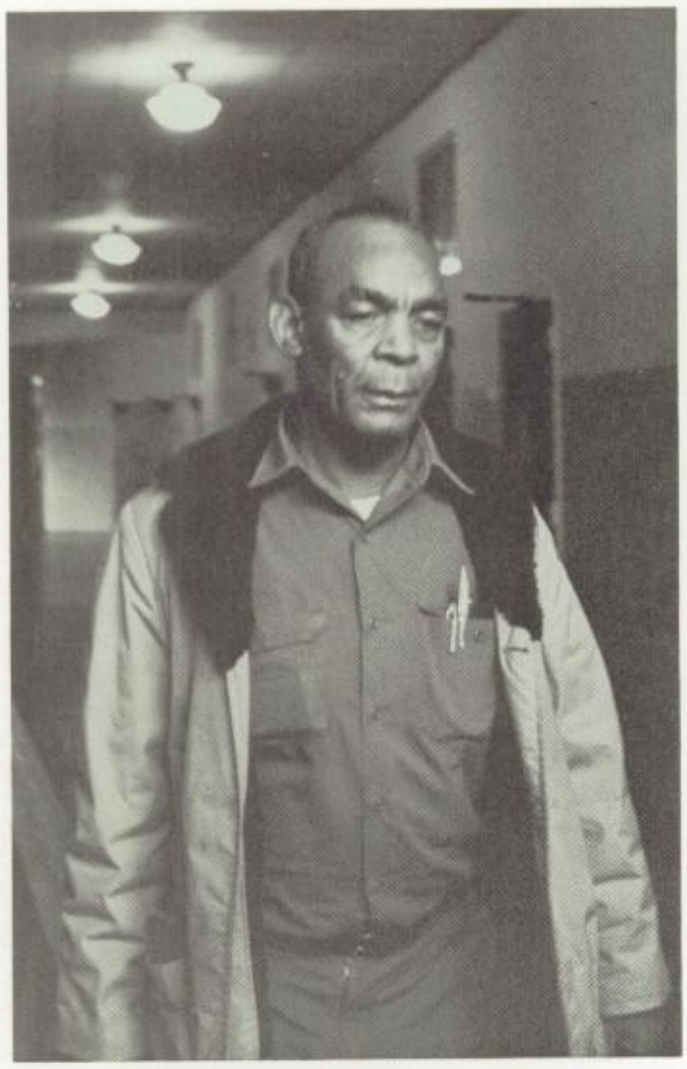
One of the strongest departments at John Carroll is the Guidance Office. Miss Rebecca Braxton and Mr. John Tarrant fill their days with counseling activities ranging from private advice sessions with individual students to group guidance classes for the Sophomores and the Freshmen. Got any questions about ACT tests? Prospective schools? Preference tests? Ask the J. C. counselors, they will be sure to have an answer.

ood fun, good fellowship, and Cathy Hamel are ALWAYS present in the J. C. Guidance Office.



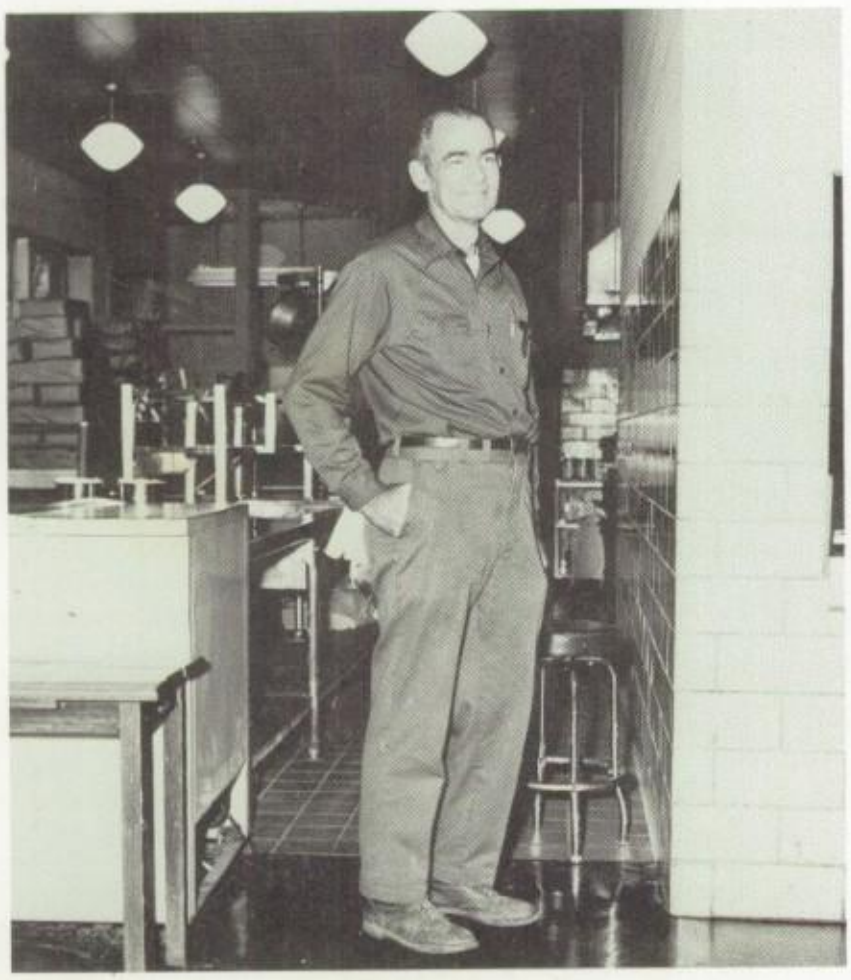
First year Counselor John Tarrant fits in well with the relaxed atmosphere of the Guidance Office.

Maintenance



The sparkling appearance of the John Carroll halls reflects the conscientious efforts of Director of Maintenance, Mr. Whatley.

Cafeteria personnel obviously enjoy their work.



Despite the work load on the Maintenance Crew, the J. C. Janitors can still manage a smile.

Included in many of Mrs. Hodges' various jobs is the balancing of the lunchroom books.

ONLY THE BEGINNING!

William J. LaPlante

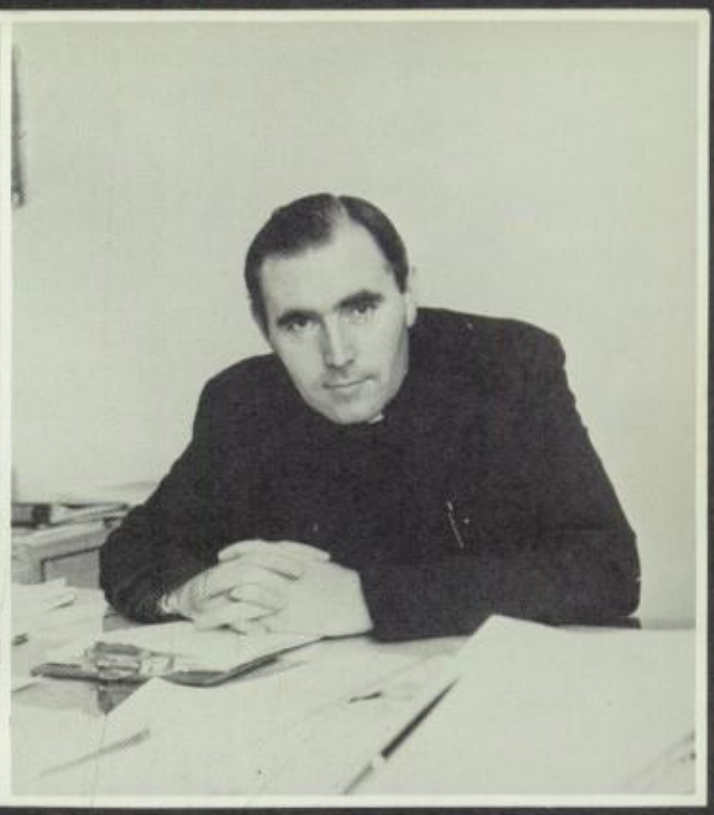
Mr. LaPlante is a native of California. His undergraduate studies were completed at the University of San Francisco in social studies, philosophy and Spanish. His graduate studies, in school administration and supervision, have been at San Francisco State College, University of Nevada, University of California at Los Angeles, and University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa. He has taught in the Washoe County Schools, Reno, Nevada, Cotopaxi Academy, Quito, Ecuador, Colegio Bolicar, Cali, Columbia. He was also a research consultant for the Nevada State Department of Education. During this past year, Mr. LaPlante has been assistant headmaster at the Tuscaloosa Academy, Tuscaloosa, Alabama. He holds membership in the National Association of Independent Schools, the National Association of Secondary School Principals, The Exchange Club, and Kappa Delta Pi, a national education honorary academic society.

He is married and has three children, ages 2, 3, and 9. The La Plantes will make their home in the Crestline Area of Birmingham.

John Carroll is honored to have Mr. LaPlante as its new principal.

is job isn't all that hard . . .

but I dread these Monday mornings and all those blue slips!



Education is a social process . . .
Education is a growth . . .
Education is not a preparation for life;
Education is life itself.

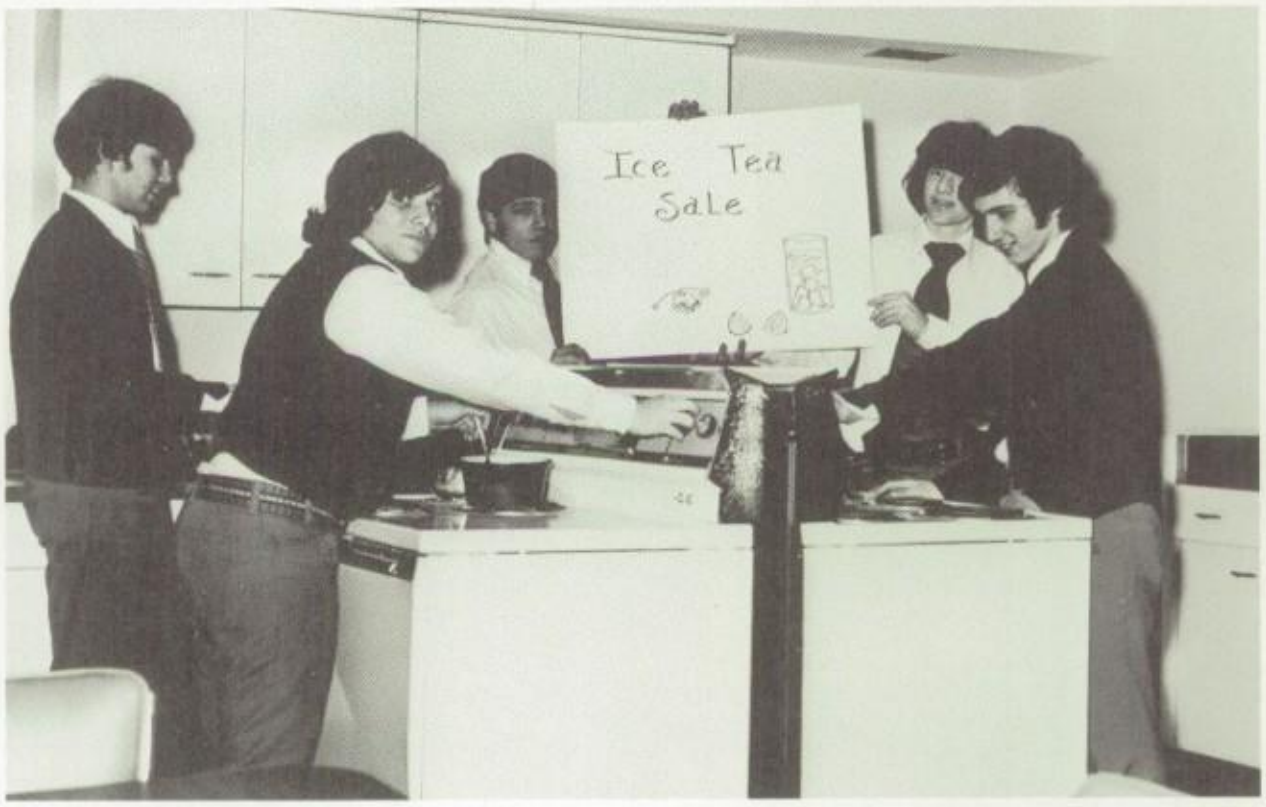
Student Council

This year's Student Council has been busy getting the stu dents adapted to the new modular scheduling. Many new committees were formed in order to overcome the problems that came up, namely the "Noise Pollution" and the "Clean Up" committees which worked to make the cafeteria and classroom conditions better. They urged the students to par ticipate in the committee and work with the Student Coun cil.

Cecilia Hornbuckle, Brenda Albright, and Nicky Campo notta combine their talents to make decorations for Home coming.



Such gourmet delights as iced tea are the specialties of the Fund Raising Committee.

The Cafeteria Committee makes an ecological move by cleaning the lunchroom.

CSMC

Service is the theme of the Carroll Service to Mankind Corps. This club, under the direction of Sister Virginia, strives to make life a little better for the unfortunate. Their projects include visiting the elderly in nursing homes and collecting food for the needy families at Thanksgiving. Each year the CSMC sponsors an Easter Egg Hunt for underprivileged children. Their main fund raising project is the Queen of Hearts Dance. The money from this annual dance is donated to a worthy cause.

The CSMC officers are the building blocks for the organization. They are: Tina Vercigli — Secretary; Mary Ann Pilliteri, Vice-President; Vincent Tambrello, President; Margare Stephens, Vice-President; Julie McAleer, Treasurer; and Sister Virginia Rohling, Moder tor.

Happy and willing to help others is this club. They visit a nursing home every year for the CSMC.

Jeanette Milligan and Tommy McMahon eagerly look on as Mark Maxwell prepares for th CSMC Christmas project.

This CSMC banner states what could be considered the motto of the CSMC.

Pattie Garner and Chuck Callans practice for Mass as Karen Wydick and Linda Boggan admire.

Carroll students show a spirit of true thanksgiving by offering gifts to the poor.

Happy members of the Queen of Hearts court are Elaine Garcia, Karen Davis, and Cindy Gustin.

Escorts John Joseph, Joel Boykin, third alternate Ginger Sicola and Robbie White look as the king and queen are crowned.

Last year's king and queen John Joseph and Carol Bruno crown the 1973 king and queen Michelle Marino and Nic Campanotta.

CSMC representatives add the finishing touches to the decorations for the Queen of Hearts.

Carl Salamone acts as an excellent supervisor over Tina Verciglio, Madeline Perricotti and Sandy Pilliteri.

John Carroll unites to offer thanks at the CSMC Thanksgiving Mass.

Interact Club

One of the service-oriented organizations in the school is the Interact Club. President — Mike Bouton, Vice-President — Pat Seifert, Treasurer — Bill Carrico, and Secretary — Barbara Williams have provided expert leadership to achieving this worthy goal. Among their many projects are the school clean-ups, grass cutting, keeping up the grounds, and school maintenance.

Through other noteworthy undertakings, such as Youth for Hunger, this club has succeeded in living up to the definition of interact — to act on each other. This action takes the form of help and self sacrifice — the bettering of the school and the community.

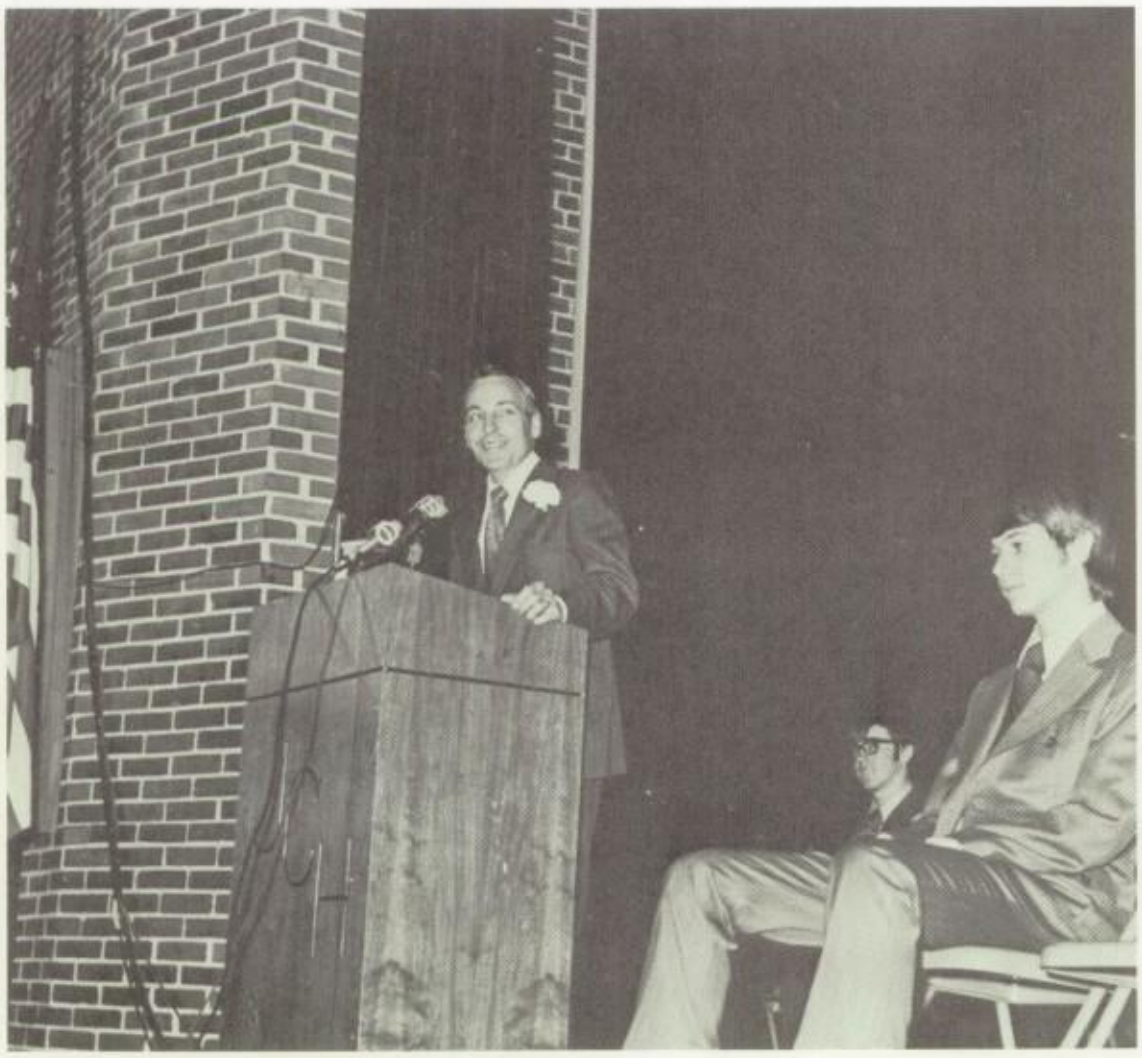
National Honor Society

The National Honor Society promotes the four qualities; scholarship, leadership, service and character, among Carrollites. It is on the basis of these qualities that new members are tapped each year. Lead by President Dan McCrary, Vice-President Theodore Hawkins, Secretary Angela Pumilia and Treasurer Angela Rogers, the club undertook several projects this year. Among these were Senior Tapping, Junior Tapping, College Night, and Tutoring Program.

Officers: President Dan McCrary, Vice-President Theodore Hawkins, Secretary Angela Pumili
Treasurer Angela Rogers, Historian Beth Scalise.



The National Honor Society was honored with a visit by former Governor Albert Brewer at the Junior Tapping Ceremony.

At the annual College Night, Dr. Earl Hamel speaks on the importance of a good education.

Tears and smiles were all part of the excitement as Angela Pumilia congratulated Patti Garner.

French Club

Bonjour! Parlez-vous francais? Appropriate, yes, but the John Carroll French Club needs no such introduction. One of the oldest and most active clubs in the school, the French Club has succeeded in winning first prize at the State French Convention for a number of years. Outside of their studies of French culture, the club serves the community every year by entertaining at nursing homes and Day Care centers. As a special project, this year, the French Club is participating in the Birmingham Festival of Arts. The French Club's motto:

Viva la France!

Debbie Milton introduces some enthusiastic freshman French Club members to the Agendir the club's handbook.

Some French Club members admire "les petite bebes" from Paris.

The French Club is made up of happy students of many different classes.

Do you think these three club members know all about France???

Club President, Debbie Milton, has a big responsibility to fulfill.

The French Club members quickly learn how to read French Magazines.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, moderated by Miss Brown, and lead by the energetic officers, Mike Contorno, Mary Pilliteri, Jean White, and Judy Creagan has grown and expanded to include a large number of students this year.

They have achieved a variety of things such as bake sales, and Spanish custom studies, to selling cokes at a school play.

The officers of the Spanish Club, Mike Conterno, Mary Pilliteri, Jean White, and Judy Creagan, ha made that club a growing part of the school's activities.

Camille Coughlin, Ronny Macksoud, Jean White, Mary Pilliteri, Judy Creagan, and Pattie Garner have been busy moting the Spanish Club activities all year.

Cathy Hamel, Mary Lovoy, and Sandy Pilliteri contribute to the Spanish Club's fund raising drive for UNICEF.

onny Macksoud, Carol Saab, Alina Palacios, Camille Coughlin, Judy Creagan, Sandy Pilliteri, Angela Pumilia, Mary Lovoy, Pat Ferino, Karen Vidick, Jean White, Tommy Latsis, Marsha Baldone, Mary Jo Graffio, Matt Scalici, Ginger Ferlishi, Mike Contorno, Mary Pilliteri, and Patti arner are faithful members of the Spanish Club.

Dramatics

Although their favorite saying is "break a leg," the members of the Dramatics Club are a very sophisticated group. Having the unique honor of being the offical entertainers of John Carroll this year, under the excellent leadership of Miss Hilda Horn, they produced two excellent plays. The fall play was "Seven Days in May," a tense political drama. As a change of mood, the spring play was a hilarious melodrama, "No Opry in the Opry House Tonight." All in all, this year was an enjoyable one, particularly for the audience.

Sherry Campbell artistically makes-up Marguerite Bruno in the play "Seven Days in May."

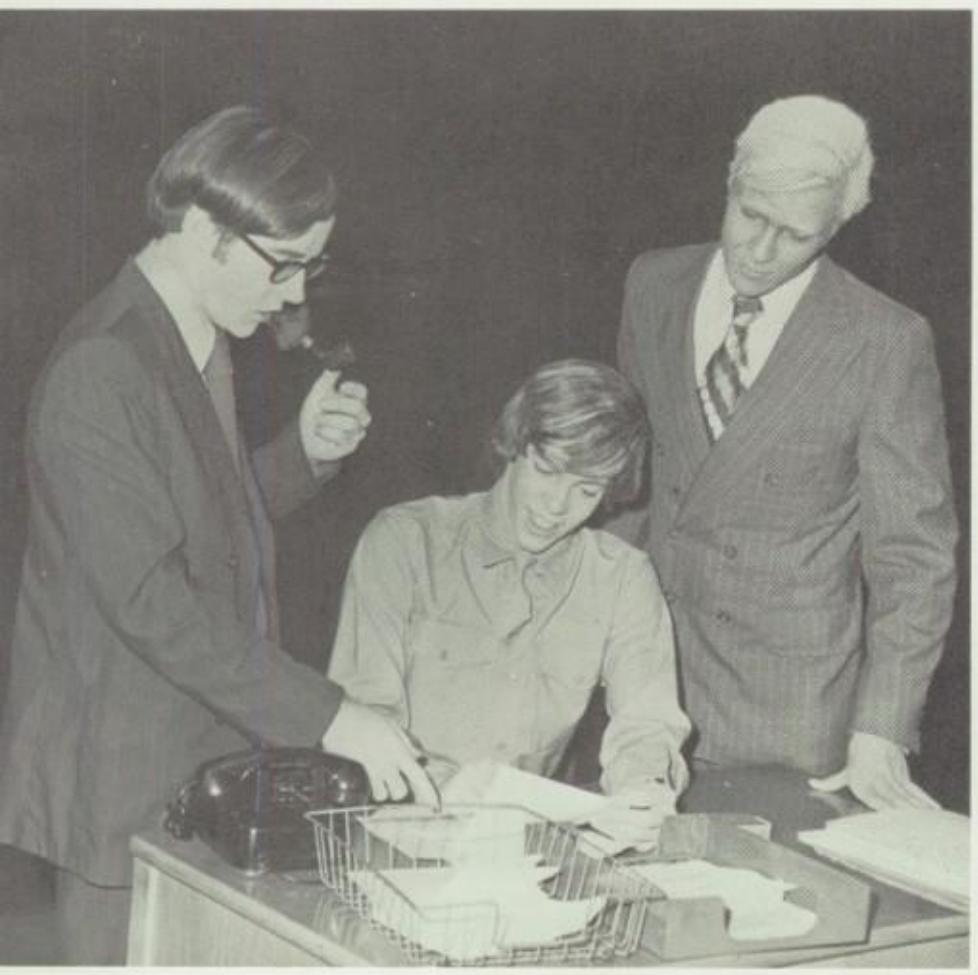
John Alvey is always looking for an audience, even when he's supposed to be supervising the stage crew consisting of Jerry D'Alessandro, John Bres and Bill Carrico.

Leah Mackin plays a crafty, sophisticated German collaborator in "No Op at the Old Opry House Tonight."

Ken Archambault, a rising young composer, comforts his starring sister, Deb bie Watts, she she desperately flashes the sheriff of Grimy Gulch, Steve Su livan, a smile, who in turn hands her an eviction notice.

aron von Wolfpack, (Mr. Joe Milazzo) I see my Vaseline Intensive Care tion is working!" exclaims Madame Violetta (Beth Scalise).

Behind the scenes effects are successful due to the craftsmanship of Art Mueller, John Pilman, Jimmy Collier, Mike Pilman, and James Talley.



ke Seifert, Jim Flemming, and Hugh Gainer go over important details concerning a top secret ssion in "Seven Days in May."

Biz Benning closely watches as Sherie Bronson masterfully applies her stage make-up.

Artistic, creative, exuberant . . . these adjectives all describe the Art Club. Under the watchful eye of Mr. Joseph Milazzo, members of the club have excelled in numerous art shows. In addition, the members have participated in the Festival of Arts, C.A.M.M., and other functions such as the Benedictine Sister's festival. In spite of all this work, the officers — President Nicky Campanotta, Vice-President Jerry Albright, Treasurer Cecilia Hornbuckle, and Secretary Angela Pumilia — manage to keep the members happy with field trips, banquets, and conventions. Who knows? Maybe the next Da Vinci is getting his start in the John Carroll Art Club!

With help from Mr. Milazzo, Dan McCrary and Helen Tully "learn th ropes."

John Carroll students learn that variety is a trademark of Mr. Milazzo's art courses.

Science Club

Leaping lizards? Man-made lightning? Hamster triplets? Impossible you say? Not for the John Carroll Science Club. Small on members but fantastic in their accomplishments, the Science Club operates under the watchful eye of Mr. Marvin Moseley. Aside from exploring the secrets of the biology and chemistry labs, the inquisitive members attend many lectures given by nearby colleges. A future Einstein from John Carroll? It's possible!

Science Club members: Michael Varagona, Michael McDevitt, Michael Pilman, Mr. Moseley, George Pittman, Jimmy Collier, and John Pilman.

"Who says we can't invent a new element?" Give 'em a try and the Science Club can do it!

Pep Club

With the enthusiastic leadership of Mrs. Patterson, the Pep Club is an important part of John Carroll. Selling megaphones, shakers, and jerseys are all part of their work in building school spirit. When one sees a green outfit, one can expect school spirit to become contagious.

This year's Pep Club members from left to right: J. Bres, T. Latham, G. McElroy, T. Stephens, E. Sherrill, S. Bronson, J. Myers, B. Lotz, M. Baldone, T. Triola, M. Lovoy, C. Gustin, S. Accardi, K. Flynn.

"Active would be the best adjective to use when describing the Math Club. Under the leadership of Mrs. Helen Miller, Moderator, Beth Scalise, President, Lisa Reardon, Vice-President and Mary Ann Bahakel, Secretary-Treasurer, the club members have kept very busy. They have participated in tournaments at Samford University, and Huffman High School, and a convention at Scottsboro. In addition, they sponsored a tournament for eighth-graders from various elementary schools. The Math Club can truly be considered a Functioning organization.

The Math Club officers and moderator enjoy displaying the fruits of their labors.

"Have Mu Alpha Theta banner, will travel" seems to be the motto of members Ken Archambault, Sherrill Mitchell, M McCarthy, Tom Pilkerton, Jim Fredette, Jack Sacco, J. E. Avrard, Art Mueller, and James Talley.

The Bank Board, a Junior Achievement company, sponsored by BTNB, has proven itself in more ways than one. Besides operating a savings bank once a week, the Board participates in the JA Trade Fair at Eastwood Mall. It also sponsored a Bank Week and Teller's Workshop.

With the leadership of Mrs. Richards, moderator, Debbie Tortorigi, President, Beth Scalise, Vice-President, Mary Jo Gagliano, Cashier, and Amy Oliver, Assistant Cashier, the Board makes it clear that banking makes a lot of cents!

Christopher Business Club

The efficient secretary — that is the model of the girls in the Christopher Business Club. Under the direction of Mrs. Richards, the girls learn to run a responsible office and to handle money wisely. From their income earned by selling baked goods and candy apples, the Christopher Business Club visits Business Colleges and large corporation offices. These girls have proven to be refined business workers in the club.

Chorus

The chorus, under the leadership of Mrs. Pollyanna Davis, certainly strikes a happy note at John Carroll. In addition to regular classes, the chorus provides singing for various school functions, such as assemblies and Masses. This year, they also performed short olio acts as part of the Winter Melodrama.

Cavalier Staff

One group of students that serves the school with hard work and enjoyment is the Cavalier Newspaper Staff. The staff has a new moderator this year — Mrs. Janice DeArman. The staff has published the Cavalier six times over the school year. The high quality of the paper, a standard set by previous years, has been kept.

Responsibility and a willingness to work are two necessities for the Cavalier Staff. The Journalism class, as well as writers for the paper, display these qualities well. Of course, student interest keeps a paper alive! Here are some interested students who helped during the year; Jaime Ronderos, Frances Ragusa, Mike Seifert, John Pittman, Dottie Coughlin, Patti Garner, Margaret Stephens and David Sellers.

Members of the class, Leslie Lovoy, Cecilia Hudson, Ralph Bonner, Steve Sullivan, Sandy Ransdell, Kathleen Hunter, Ronnie Macksoud and Cathie Kendrick were grateful for their excellent moderator and teacher Mrs. DeArman. One student commented, "I doubt if anyone else would have had the patience and perseverance that Mrs. DeArman had to produce the papers we did."

Staff members Leslie Lovoy, Cecilia Hudson, Cathy Kendrick, and moderator Mrs. DeArman approve this Cavalier. Ronny Macksoud, however, is not so sure.

Debate Team

AFFIRMATIVE: The John Carroll Debate Team is one of the hardest working, traveling and arguing organizations in the school. Led by moderator Miss Chris Vodantis, the team has participated in statewide tournaments during the 1972-1973 school year. Their list of victories includes a 2nd place trophy from McGill Institute and a Novice Division District Championship Title. By use of oral interpretation, persuasive speaking and mock debates, the Debate Team has provided both entertainment and new channels of learning for its members and the school. The team has been honored for the past two years with an invitation to the Barkley Forum at Emory University. Through thousands of file cars, research hours in the library, tattered ballots, and bulging case briefs, weary debaters forever strive for the mark of excellency in the oldest oratory art of persuasion.

Annual Staff

This is the third production year for the John Carroll yearbook Green Leaves. The staff is divided into two parts, the production and the business staff.

The production staff is headed by Sister Mary Grace Mecke, moderator, and co-editors Cathy Hamel and Mary Margaret Yester. Mr. Roger Smith, from Taylor Publishing Company, assists the staff in time of need.

The business staff, who handles all the money matters, is headed by Frank Costa and Mr. Robert Potter, their moderator.

Mary Margaret Yester and Cathy Hamel, co-editors, and Sister Mary Grace, the moderat of the Yearbook, make plans for the coming Yearbook.

Sports

Football

The 1972 John Carroll football team made history. The Cavaliers who ended up with a 9-1 regular season record, the best in the school's 25 year history, made the state 3A high school football playoffs and finished sixth in the state. Not only that, the Cavaliers led the Birmingham News All-Jefferson County Independent squad with six members: Johnny Walker, Jim Flemming, Moon Mullen, Pat Tully, Pat LaRock, and Greg Lake. The biggest victory in the season which really gave the team more momentum was the win over Tarrent High, the 1971 State 3A Champ who had won 14 straight games. Because of this great upset, the Cavaliers were named "Team of the Week" by WVOK radio for all of Alabama, and Coach McNally was named "Coach of the Week." These honors were very well fitted for such a strong team with much determination.

Bruce Petway and the Cavaliers sweep the end en route to a 20-0 rout over Leeds.

cial time out.

The managers, Steve Joseph and George Sawaya, performed invaluable service to the team during the entire season.

The efforts of the Pep Club and Cheerleaders resulted in spirit signs such as this at every Carroll game.

Basketball

After months of hard work and strenuous practices, the John Carroll Cagers opened their 1972-1973 basketball season with success by defeating BUS. All their games were well played and the buzzer often sounded the difference between their victories and their defeats. Their victories included wins over Tarrant, BUS, Shades Valley and Mortimer Jordon. Although the middle of the season looked dim, the teams morale picked up with some well deserved victories.

Golf

The 1973 John Carroll Golf Team has proved itself to be one of the most outstanding since the sport has been adopted at the school. Boasting an 11-3 record, the team has won third place in the Regional, 17-Team Tournament and finished second in the Prattville Invitational. Despite the loss of the graduating Seniors, Coach Robert Hayes will undoubtedly continue to produce fine golf teams from the remaining underclassmen who want to be described as "real swingers."

Track

The 1972-1973 John Carroll Track Team has had a very successful year. Among their accomplishments were fourth place at the Berry Relays and First place at the Tuscaloosa Invitational Track meet. The team tied with Sylacauga for the Indoor Track Championship. Among individual awards at this meet were: first place 440 — Mike Seifert, first place 60 low hurdles — Bruce Petway, first place 2 mile run — Coleman Spalding, second place shotput — Pat LaRock, and second place 880 — John Bahakel. The Track Team had an overall record of 15 wins, 5 losses and should win the Sectional Title.

Grueling practice sessions take their toll of track team members, but records are reaped at the various competition meets.

Cross Country team members pause from their continuous schedule of daily practice.

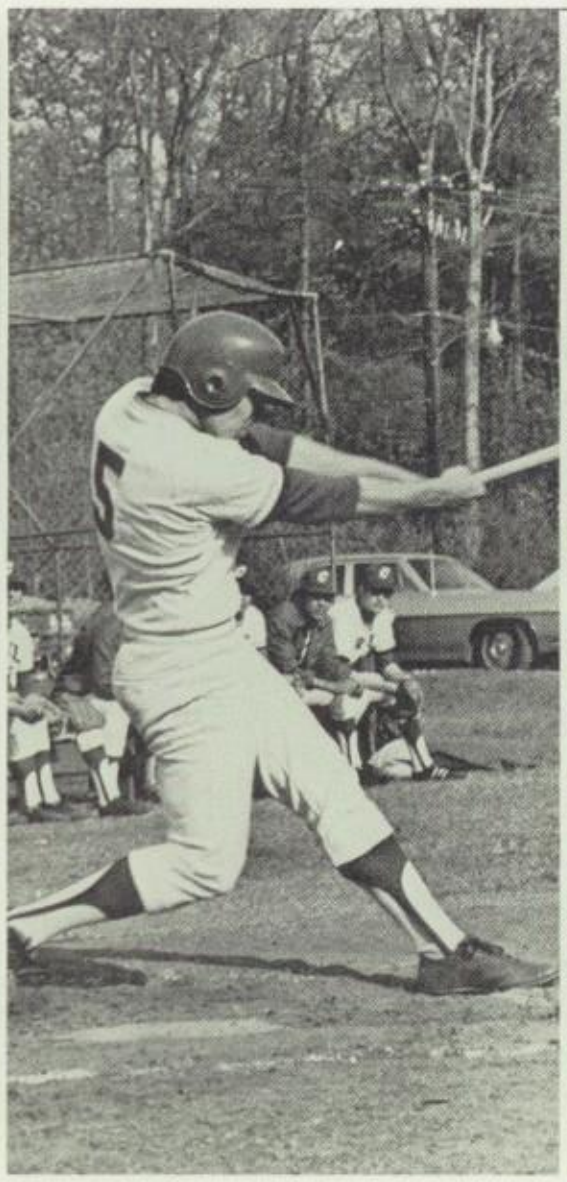
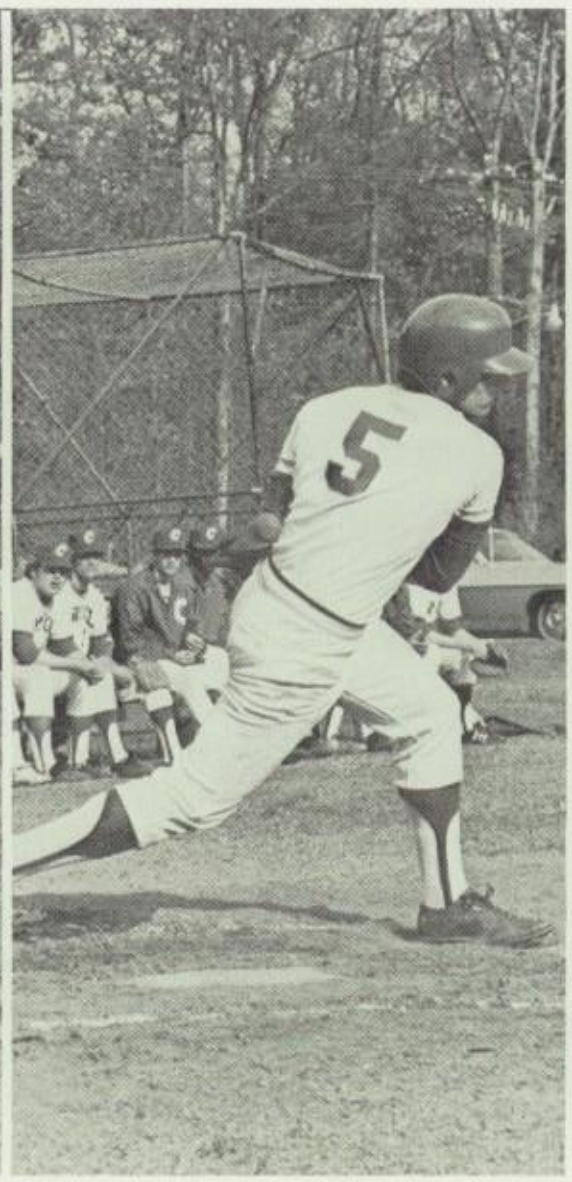
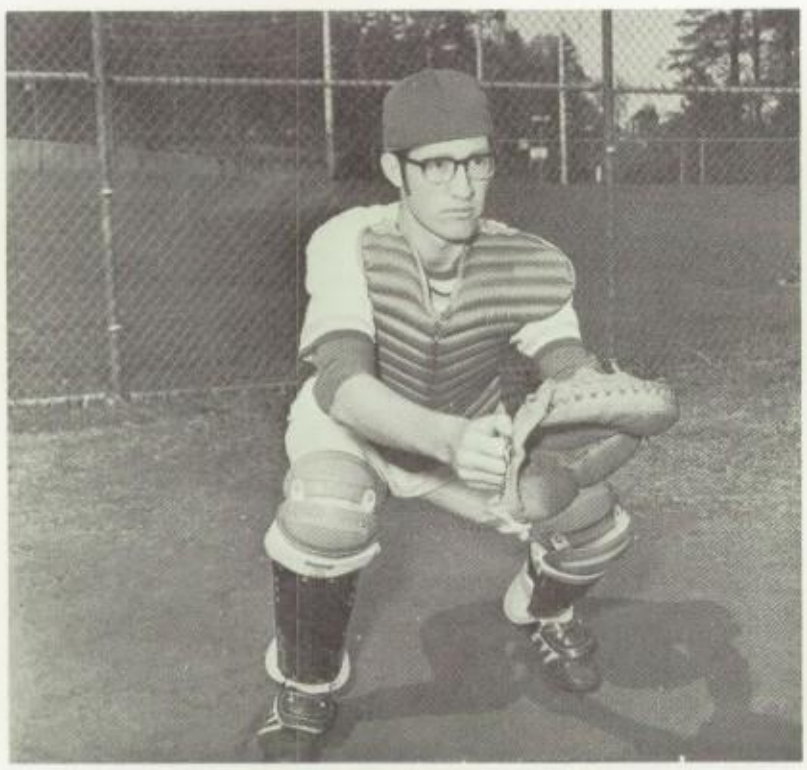
Coach Gonzales dictates some careful instructions to the players on the bench.



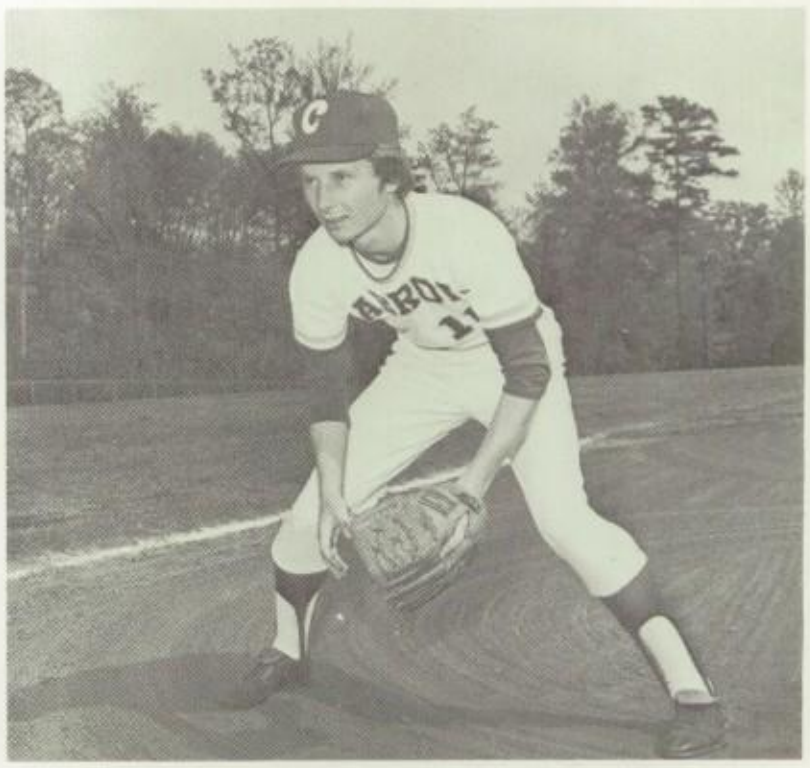


Baseball

Junior Tom Donahue is one of the many fine pitchers who combine their talents to form a strong staff.



Senior catcher Mike Estock adds his experience and skills to the very sucessful '73 baseball team.



Tim Donahue, senior third baseman, stands ready for the "hot corner."

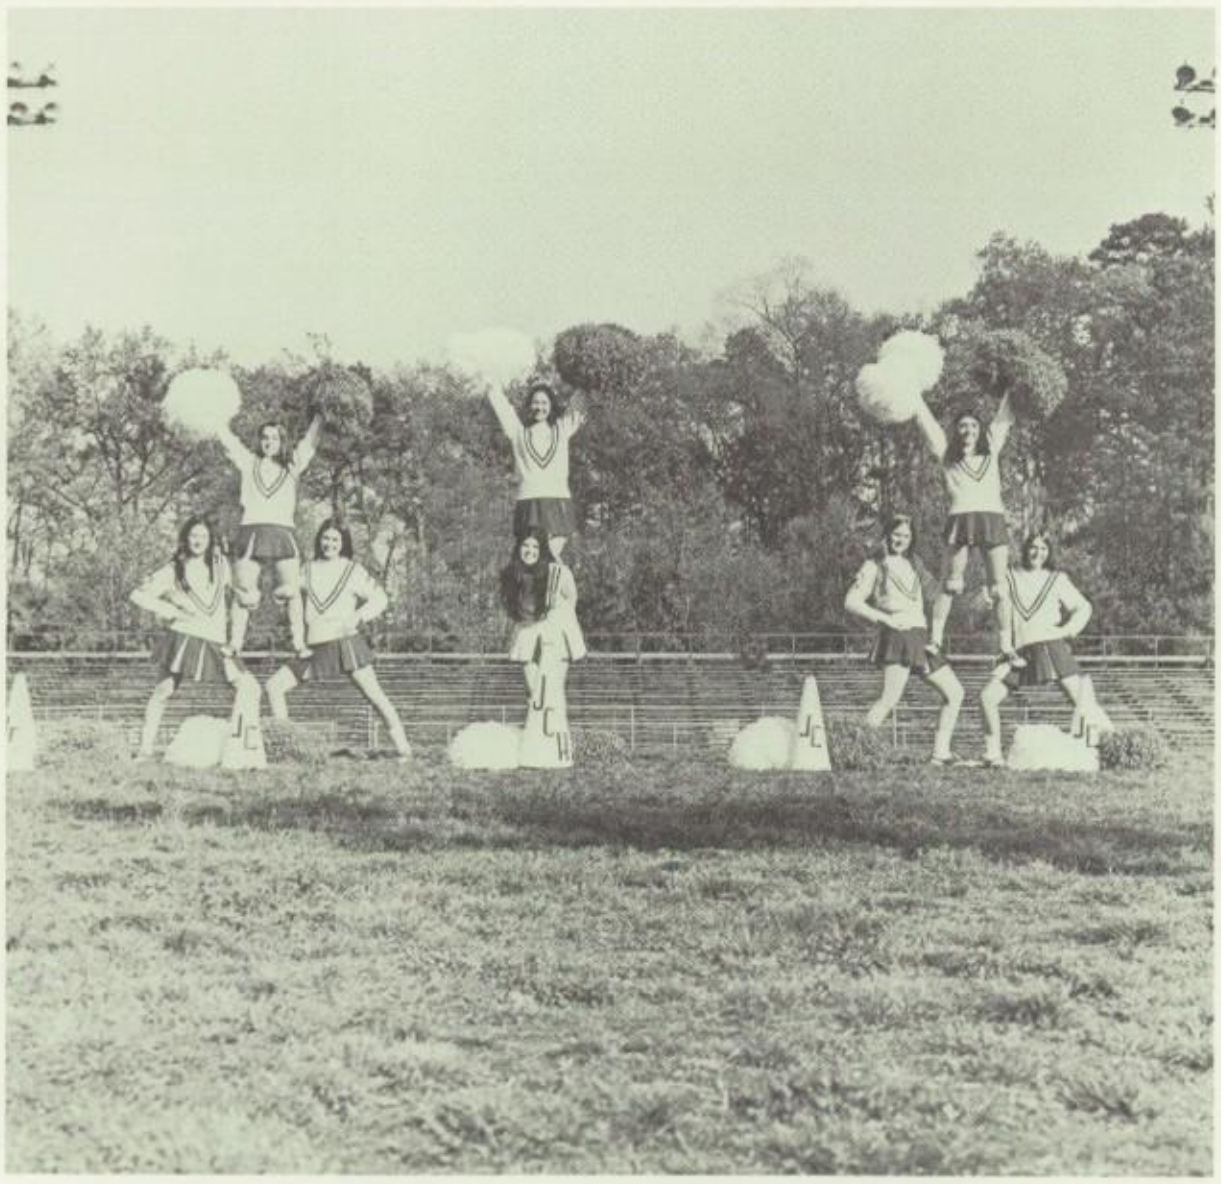
Big cuts such as this one by Greg Lake add punch to the potent John Carroll attack.

Cheerleaders

cee break! Icee break! . . . B-team to the rear . . . Let's do it one more time . . . Keep the line-up straight," these are the unds of summer practice. This summer saw the cheerleaders selling toothbrushes to earn money to go to cheerleading clinic Auburn University, where the varsity got fourth place over thirty-six other schools. The varsity brought home four ribbons cluding one for first place. The B-team won a third place ribbon. Aside from learning new cheers and chants, much plan-ng was still ahead for pep rallies performed on game days. The Varsity Squad consisted of Head Cheerleader, Jackie Oddo; -head Laurie Mellett, Denise Capps, Lisa Baldone, Eileen McCarthy, Barbara Thornton, Bucky Estock, Mary Esther Bro-o, and Michele Marino.

s year's B-team are sophomores Michelle Brouillette, Kathy Alosi, Cheryl Marino and hy West.

Senior Cheerleaders Jackie Oddo and Denise Capps show bubbly enthusiasm that made them outstanding during their years at Carroll.



The 1972-1973 award winning John Carroll varsity squad.

Band

The John Carroll Band, directed by Mr. Roy Griffin is a very active group in our school. The band attended state competition and received a rating of excellent! The band serves at various masses, basketball games, assemblies — not to mention football season. Aside from group talent, the band has displayed individual talents. The acclaimed Brass Choir has played for school masses and in various churches around Birmingham.

Mr. Roy Griffen pretends he's Lawrence Welk!

Pucker up and play your best, French Horns.

What does Rita Collins, sponsor of John Carroll Band, think of as she stands out in the middle of the field?

Grover Allen, are you directing Beethoven's Fifth Symphony . . . or the John Carroll Marching Band?

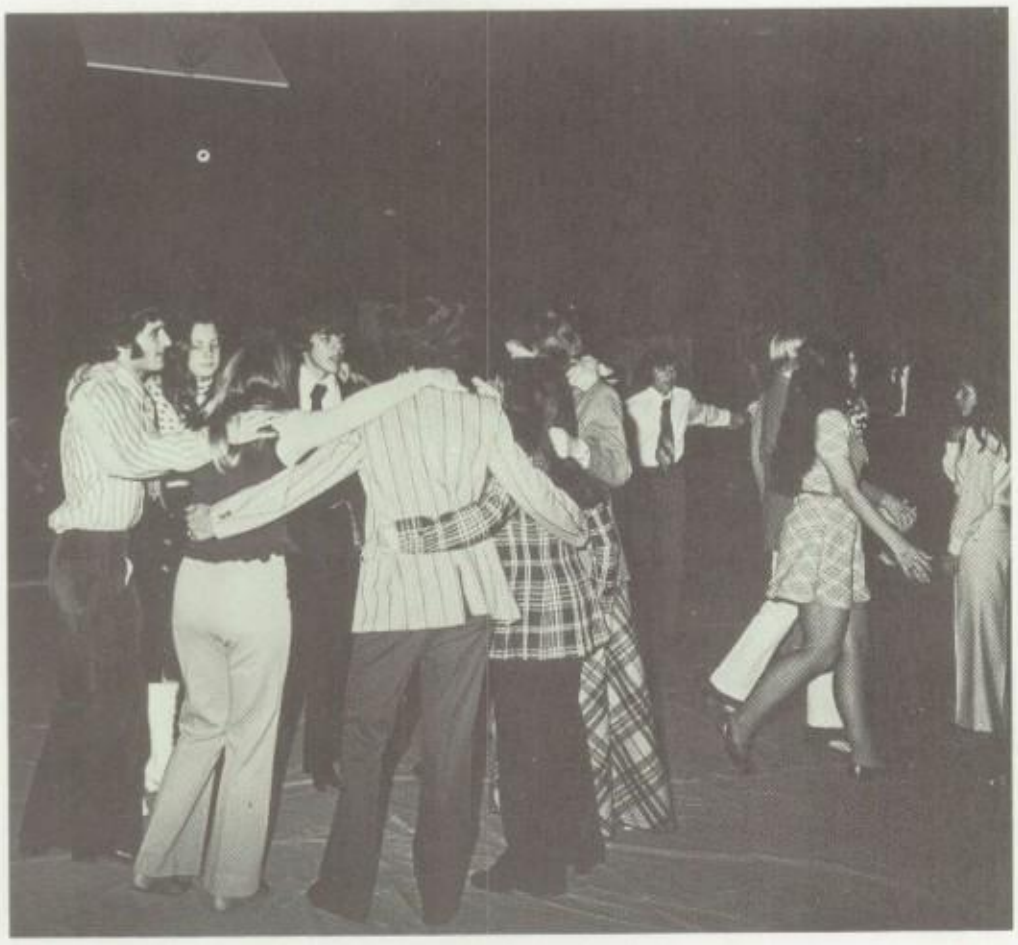
Homecoming 1972



The Senior Float proved to be worth the time and effort, for it won first place.

Marguerite Bruno, Homecoming Queen, poses with the two alternates Tina Verciglio and Biz Binnings.

Let's dance!?!

Marguerite Bruno, the 1972 Homecoming Queen.

Seniors Jackie Oddo and Tim Donahue, reflect the sparkling personalities which result in their election as King and Queen of School Spirit.

John Carroll students, past and present, obviously enjoy themselves at the 1972 Homecoming Dance.

Spiritual Section

The most profound moving portion of life at John Carroll is the Spiritual aspect of the school community, where the Catholic basis of the institute is most apparent. Under the constant and devoted direction of the school Chaplain, Fr. Frank Muscolino, the activities reach out to every individual and help him to fulfill his own personal needs. From the small prayer groups in the afternoon, to the school-wide morning masses, the feeling of brotherhood and love permeates the life at John Carroll. It is to this goal that the school is devoted, and for which the faculty, students, and administration constantly strive.

Prom

Romance and Enchantment took place during "An Evening in Venice" at the Junior Senior Prom. Gondolas, bridges, fountains, and flowers were only a few of the highlights. The '73 Senior Class added a new twist this year with the creation of a dinner dance at the Roma Club. After dinner music — produced by Rainbow — was enjoyed immensely by all who attended. While reactions to the event ranged from awe at the spectacular setting to a tear of sadness at the end of a senior year, everyone agreed that the 1973 Junior-Senior Prom was truly a memorable evening.

The happy smiles of Joey Camponotta and Vivian Meadows reflect the general atmosphere at the Roma Club.

Sherrie Angrisano and her escort pause briefly during their "Evening in Ve ice."

A new twist was added to the prom with the creation of a dinner-dance at the Roma Club.

John Alvey, what sweet nothings did you whisper in Linda Boggan's ear to cause such a reaction?

Mike, don't worry, Mary Jane won't choke you!!

Class President, David McGarity, and Leading Lady, Jeannene Purvis, pause on the bridge spanning the twin fountains.

Class Day 1973

Will I remember how I looked and what I did when I was young
(when I am old)?
Will I remember what I wondered?
When I am old
who will I be?
Still me?

"Will I Remember?" by Richard J. Margolis

Class Day 1973 — No longer an expectation but a reality, graduation will soon thrust these graduates into adulthood and its responsibilities.

Sign of the Times . . .

Father Muller and Father Muscalino ask for God's blessings and grace for the graduating class.

n Flemming receives the Floyd Meshad trophy for outstanding athletic hievement.

David McGarity, class president, opens the Class Day ceremonies with hope for the future.

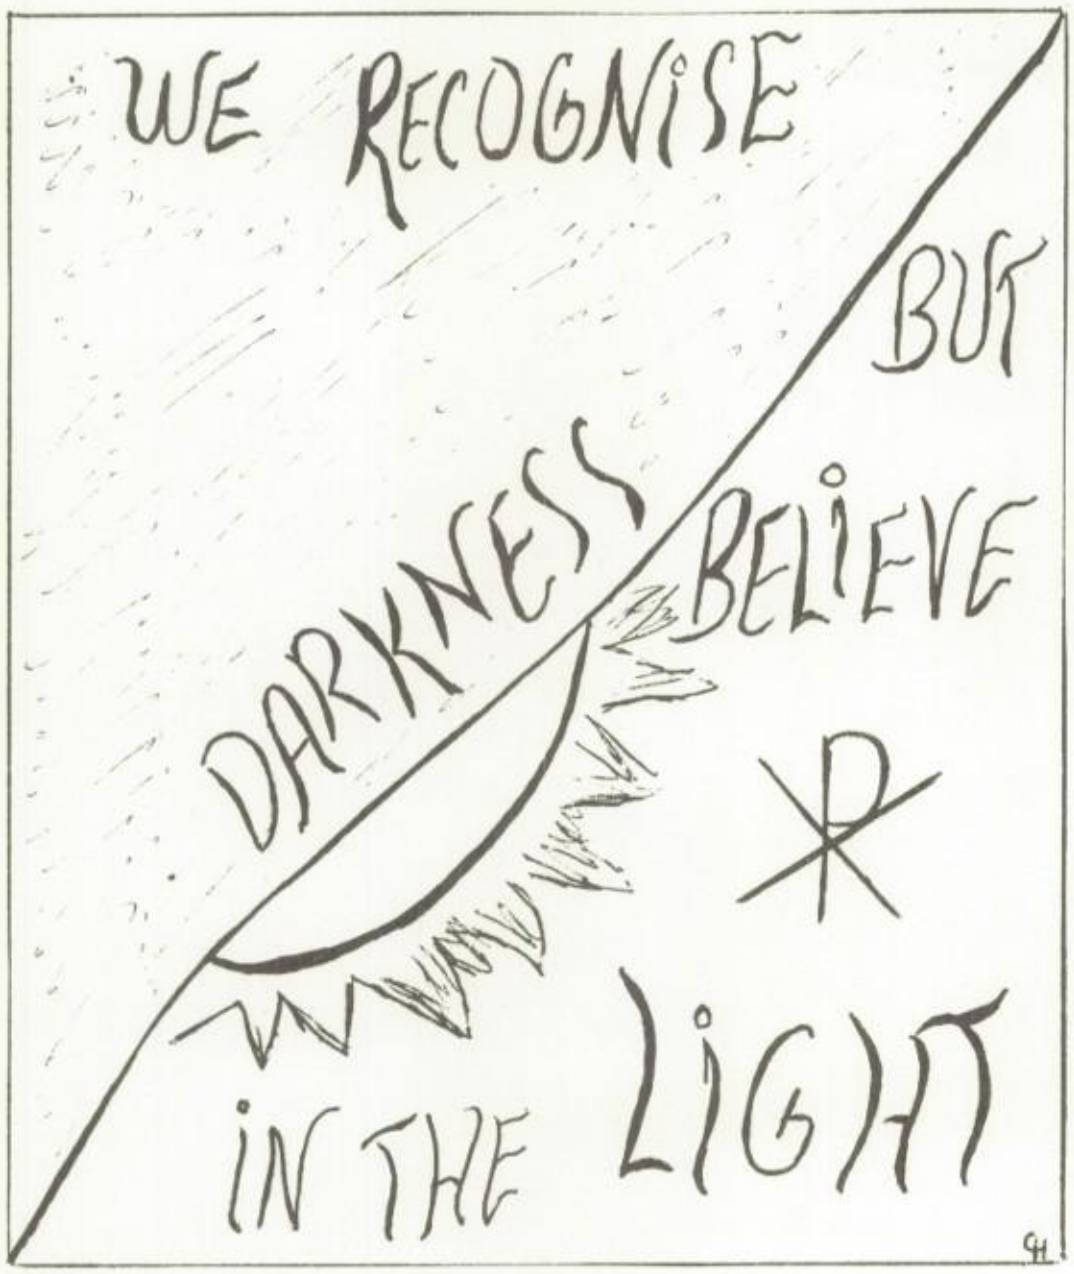
Graduation 1973



One moment, one tear and one final step into an adult world for Cecilia Hor buckle.

This is just one of the many goodbyes that Kay Bruno will have to say before she leaves Carroll.

His Excellency Bishop Joseph Vath urges graduates to uphold the Christian Values they ha learned at John Carroll.

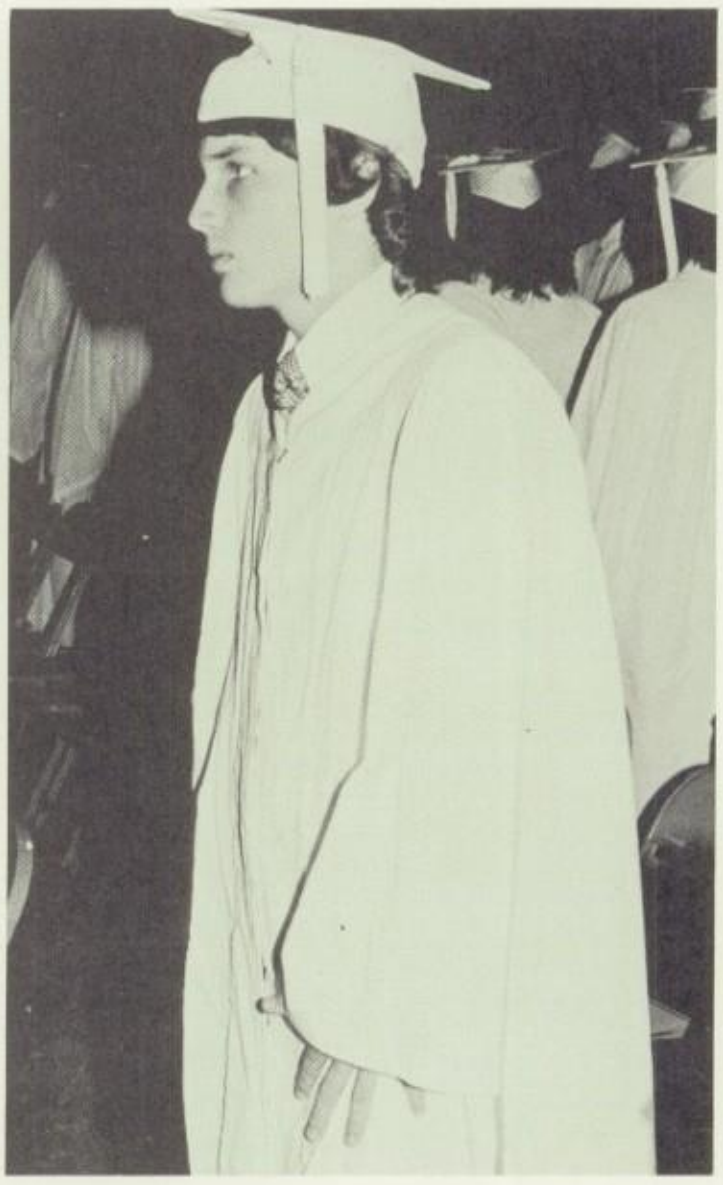
Mr. William LaPlante addresses his first graduating class from Carroll.

. . . "To boldly go where no man has gone before," was the challenge presented to the graduates by Dr. John Firth.

Graduation Ceremonies are given much dignity by the presence of Msgr. William Houck, Father hael Sexton, Bishop Vath and Father Muller.



John Alvey steps forward to receive his long-awaited diploma.

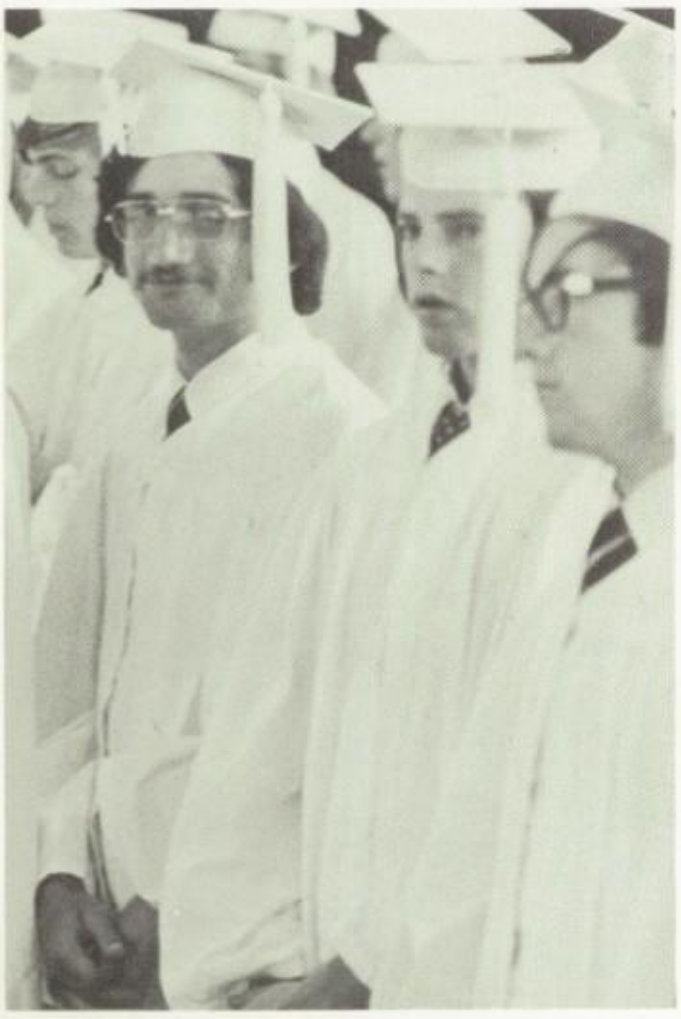
For Brenda Albright, a hug will express how she feels about graduating.



Mitch Domit seems to have no doubts that he'll receive a diploma!

i'm almost out, but where do i go now? oh, maybe i'll try college for a year or find a job. but it's so frightening. i didn't expect my senior year to be so emotional! all the people who've been my classmates for four years have changed so much. but, then i guess i've grown up too. all of a sudden i feel like a person that nobody else knows. now i know what everybody means when they say you find yourself. but you know, i think all the education that i griped about has brought the change in me. not just the book knowledge i gained but what i learned about life from this school. graduation is our goal but it's gonna be so different when it really happens. but i'll remember . . . everything that meant anything to me because of my life at john carroll.

God has given to each of us a spirit with wings on which to soar into the spacious firmament of Love and Freedom.

Kahlil Gibran

My life has been a tapestry of rich and royal hue / An everlasting vision of the everchanging view / A wondrous woven magic in bits of blue and gold / A tapestry to feel and see, impossible to hold. Once amid the soft silver sadness in the sky / There came a man of fortune, a drifter passing by / He wore a torn and tattered cloth around his leathered hide / And a coat of many colors, yellow-green on either side. He moved with some uncertainty, as if he didn't know / Just what he was there for, or where he ought to go / Once he reached for something golden hanging from a tree / And his hand came down empty. Soon within my tapestry along the rutted road / He sat down on a river rock and turned into a toad / It seemed that he had fallen into someone's wicked spell / And I wept to see him suffer, though I didn't know him well. As I watched in sorrow, there suddenly appeared / A figure gray and ghostly beneath a flowing beard / In times of deepest darkness, I've seen him dressed in black / Now my tapestry's unravelling; he's come to take me back / He's come to take me back . . . .

"The tapestry of life does not end very quickly. The picture is woven

Carefully with days savored in friendships, fun, learning and people.

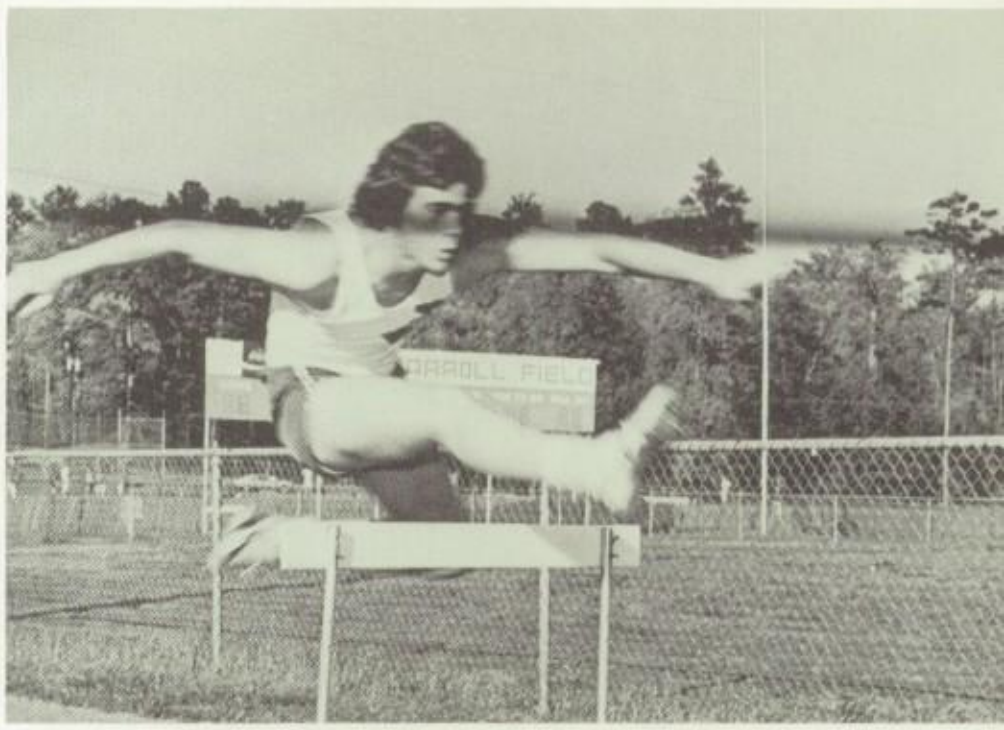
Time becomes a background compared to like essence of life - hopes & dreams

Time provides a space for memories

No line is pause as required no re-



Sleek upon the picture that has been com pleted. Get a look in tomorrow, Lees the picture is only a very small but important part of the whole—

a look deeper, beauty can be seen vital to the tapestry of life.

. . . And oh I love the life within me
I feel a part of everything I see
And oh I love the life around me
A part of everything is here in me.

from SEASON SUITE by John Denver

In the early months of the new year, the John Carroll Student Body lost one of its members, Susan Creed. Killed in a tragic motorcycle accident, Susan left behind her memories of a special kind. She loved life and generated warmth to those around her — a German Shepherd puppy, a Ford Pinto, horses and Neil Young — these were all a part of the life that Susan loved so well. She often spoke of the Colorado mountains where she was born and lived before moving to Birmingham. People who knew her say that the sunshine from those mountains could be seen in Susan's face when she smiled. John Carroll will miss Susan but will not forget her. For Susan became a part of Carroll in her own way, that special way that made her life so meaningful.

Well, this is it, the very last page — Our Page — the Editor's Page! We spent only four days trying to think up somethin' bright and witty to say, but I think we've finally run out of ideas. But we haven't forgotten those who have been our backbone — Sister Mary Grace, Mr. Roger Smith, Mr. Nick Cottis and Belmont Studios for all the time and help they've given us. We couldn't begin to describe what we've gone through to make this book — "we" meaning us and our two fantastic staffs, production and business. It's been hours of brainwork, layout planning, typing, rushing to meet deadlines and very hard work! But the people we've worked with, the fun we've had and the book itself have made it all worthwhile! We hope this book means a lot to you because it means a lot to us! We can honestly say We Tried Harder!!

EDITORS: Cathy Hamel and Mary Margaret Yester

THE END

My life has been a tapestry of rich and royal hue / An everlasting vision of the everchanging view / A wondrous woven magic in bits of blue and gold / A tapestry to feel and see, impossible to hold. Once amid the soft silver sadness in the sky / There came a man of fortune, a drifter passing by / He wore a torn and tattered cloth around his leathered hide / And a coat of many colors, yellow-green on either side. He moved with some uncertainty, as if he didn't know / Just what he was there for, or where he ought to go / Once he reached for something golden hanging from a tree / And his hand came down empty. Soon within my tapestry along the rutted road / He sat down on a river rock and turned into a toad / It seemed that he had fallen into someone's wicked spell / And I wept to see him suffer, though I didn't know him well. As I watched in sorrow, there suddenly appeared / A figure gray and ghostly beneath a flowing beard / In times of deepest darkness, I've seen him dressed in black / Now my tapestry's unravelling; he's come to take me back / He's come to take me back.

TAPESTRY by Carole King
